The Collection

The MG Collection is a unique record of the post-war MG models and is the sequel to the author's companion book on the pre-war cars. He has tracked down and photographed an example of practically every model and most of the variants, with all cars being as original as possible. These range from the TC Midget to the very latest MGF, launched at the 1995 Geneva Motor Show. Each is featured in a double-page spread together with a selection of detail photographs to form an invaluable source of reference for owners wanting to check the authenticity of their MG. In addition to more than 500 high-quality colour illustrations the accompanying text and specifications provide full details of each model and how it related to the MG range at that time.
